

The Writing on the Wall

(Daniel chapter 5)

When you're greeted in the rest room
By an obscene vandal's scrawl,
That defies the God who made us
By his writing on the wall;

Just remember when they dared Him
At an ancient banquet hall,
How the hand of God condemned them
With His writing on the wall.

But that hand was pierced to save us
From our sins, both great and small;
Though it's harder to remove them
Than the writing on the wall.

And God offers us forgiveness
For our sins, both one and all,
But if we reject His mercy,
Then the writing's on the wall!

Bud Morris
8/3/97

Copy and Distribute Freely.

More at www.poetique.cc

Bud Morris, 800 E Eighth Street, Delavan, IL 62734-9316 (309) 244-7471